INFLUENCER AND MODEL

About

I'm a fashion and lifestyle influencer and model who's passionate about living and inspiring people to live their absolute best lives and look amazing whilst doing it. I believe anyone can be fashionable, but having your own style is what makes you... you - fashion is a huge part of my lifestyle, along with other finer things such as, eating, creating beautiful experiences, being creative, and most importantly becoming my best self (life is about balance).

As a serial creative with a business background, and someone who's had an adverse life journey, I hope to inspire people to live their most beautiful life - whatever that looks like for them. My long-term goal is continuous growth and elevation, through the development of my skills and knowledge, to build a successful brand as a social entrepreneur.
